DISEASE IS AVERTED FROM THE MUSAAJID – SAID OUR NABI (SALLALLAHU ALAYHI WASALLAM).

THE DENIER IS A MORON

Question: The Majlis quoted a Hadith which states that when disease / calamity descends from the sky it is deflected from the Musaaqid. An anonymous maulana claims that this Hadith is a false attribution to Rasulullah (Sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Is the Hadith authentic? Please comment on the claim of the maulana.

Answer: What the moron said is false. Briefly, this maulana character is a moron at the minimum. His stupidity is perfect. He is bankrupt in the knowledge of Hadith. Our advice is that this paper ‘muhaddith, and moron ‘mujtahid’ should apprise himself of the rudiments of Istinja to ensure that his act of cleansing himself is valid. Invalid Istinja has a detrimental effect on the brains of a person who has gleaned a smattering of ‘knowledge’. In view of intellectual dysfunctionalism, the fellow simply disgorged some egoistic drivel without understanding the gravity of branding a Saheeh Hadith ‘false’ and a ‘lie’.

Nowadays, neo-Salafis and stupid so-called ‘deobandis’ who lack in Ilmi expertise are the victims of moronic Salafi anti-Hadith propaganda. As a result these moron molvis who have become too big for their boots suffer from the malady of deglutition. They lap up just any drivel the Salafis excrete.

The Hadith is authentic and has been affirmed by senior Muhadditheen and Fuqaha who were experts and well aware of the conditions for authenticity of Ahaadith many many centuries prior to this moron molvi appearing on earth. The few lines which the moron has written in his silly attempt to brand the Hadith false portrays his stupidity and total lack of understanding. His expertise in the sphere of Hadith is a conspicuous NIL.

This is a very brief comment on the stupid denial of the authenticity of the Hadith by the anonymous molvi. In view of the pedestal of authenticity assigned to the Hadith by the Fuqaha, there is really no need to waste time with the drivel the moron has disgorged. One of the Signs of Qiyaamah is the denial of Ahaadith which have been accepted and used as Mustadallaat by the Authorities of the Shariah from the era of the Salafus Saaliheen.

The limit of the stupid 'knowledge' of all of these Salafi and neo-Salafi morons is Al-Baani who passed away just yesterday.

The acceptance by the Fuqaha of a Hadith is the highest category of authentication which overrides the views of even the greatest Muhadditheen.
